Notable Mentions

And just like that, February has come to a close! With only two months into the new year, INTS has made significant strides in advancing our impactful work, with even more exciting initiatives on the horizon in the months ahead.

Here's a quick glance at some of the highlights and key moments from the past month and beyond:

- Heidi Seabrooks-Smith joined INTS full-time! Heidi started full-time with INTS as a Program Coordinator on February 24.
- Staff rang in the Lunar New Year together as a team. Thanks to the party planning committee, we celebrated the Lunar New Year with games, great food, and even better company.
- 2025 SRNT abstract acceptances are in. INTS faculty and staff will be presenting a record-breaking number of presentations at the annual SRNT meeting, with over 40 papers and posters!

We want to congratulate the individuals below for their recent awards and accomplishments!

- Associate Professor Olivia Wackowski was conferred with the status of Fellow of the Society for Research on Nicotine & Tobacco (SRNT). This distinction is conferred by the Society on members in recognition of outstanding contributions to the field of nicotine and tobacco research and of service to SRNT. 2025 SRNT Fellows will be recognized at next month's Annual Meeting. Congrats, Dr. Wackowski!
- Congratulations to Siyan Meng, PhD student in Public Health working with Assistant Professor Julia Chen-Sankey, on being recognized for her outstanding conference abstract! Siyan is presenting Cannabis Vape Product Advertisement Exposure is Associated with Cannabis Vape Product Use and Perceptions among U.S. Young Adults at the 2025 Annual Meeting of the Society of Behavioral Medicine held in San Francisco. This presentation submission was recognized as a Meritorious Abstract!

INTS Journal Club Meetings

The inaugural Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Accessibility (DEIA) Journal Club meeting that took place this month was a success! The INTS Journal Club aims to foster a safe and judgment-free environment to review publications and events relevant to INTS DEIA goals, which include:

- Programming
  - Recruiting
  - Training
  - Journal Club
  - Workshops
  - Conferences
- Team Interests
  - Collaborative discussion plans
- Resources
  - Teams Channel

The Journal Club, led by Kymberle L. Sterling and Heidi Seabrooks-Smith, aims to meet several times a year, ideally in person, with virtual options as well.

If you were not able to attend the inaugural meeting and would like to attend future meetings and be added to the INTS DEIA Teams channel, please contact Heidi Seabrooks-Smith.
